Leading in Uncertain Times

Change is hard and it takes time, patience, and strategy. In our first Townhall, Dr. Susan Elrod will lead a discussion of two of her most recent publications, one focusing broadly on how to lead with a shared leadership approach and the other which provides concrete resources and tools for planning a more strategic approach to leading systemic, institutional change on your campus.

Higher Education in the State House

Join us on November 29 when Ball State University Vice President for Governmental Relations and Industry Engagement will share updates and reflections from the 2023 legislative session and how our universities can help policymakers to recognize the value of higher education in our state.

MEET OUR NEW BOARD MEMBERS

ACE Women's Network of Indiana is pleased to introduce four new board members representing institutions across the state.
